

Revox Line Relaxer

8 peptides + hyaluronic acid + arnica

The Power of Innovation + Synergy

primary benefits

Specifically formulated to be paired with a neuromodulator, Revox™ Line Relaxer is an advanced targeted serum that helps to significantly impact the appearance of horizontal and vertical expression lines. This potent, 8-peptide formula utilizes patent-pending LineRelax™ technology to work in synergy with a neuromodulator to deliver the best of both worlds for dramatic, natural-looking results. When Revox™ Line Relaxer was used as a stand-alone product during a 12-week clinical study, the results were also significant.

points of difference

Revox™ Line Relaxer is the only physician-dispensed product specifically formulated to be paired with neuromodulators AND clinically-proven to enhance neuromodulators to deliver statistically significant improvement in expression lines, wrinkles and under-eye lines. This peptide powerhouse utilizes breakthrough, patent-pending LineRelax™ Technology that features five neuromodulating bioavailable peptides plus Gamma-Aminobutyric Acid (GABA) to help minimize the impact of facial expressions that cause horizontal and vertical lines to appear. The formula also contains a Dermal Support Blend of three reparative bioavailable peptides plus two botanical extracts to help support skin's natural collagen and elastin in order to reduce the appearance of fine lines and wrinkles and improve the look of skin elasticity.

who benefits

A clinically-proven topical product for women and men wanting to reduce the look of expression lines and under-eye lines. It provides statistically significant improvement when used as a stand-alone product AND with neuromodulator injections.

how to use

Apply to clean skin prior to moisturizer. Dispense desired amount and use applicator to massage serum onto any fine lines and wrinkles. You will feel a unique cooling effect from the metal tip. Avoid direct eye contact. Use twice daily.

1) What is the main difference between Revox™ Line Relaxer and Revox™ 7?

Revox™ Line Relaxer is an advanced targeted serum specifically designed and clinically tested to be paired with neuromodulators, and it contains patent-pending LineRelax™ technology. In addition, it also delivers significant results as a stand-alone product. Revox™ 7 was formulated and clinically tested as a targeted, stand-alone serum.

2) How are the formulas and technology different between Revox™ Line Relaxer and Revox™ 7?

Revox™ Line Relaxer features eight peptides while Revox™ 7 has seven. However, the technologies are different. Both products visibly soften expression lines, but Revox™ Line Relaxer features breakthrough, patent pending LineRelax™ Technology that more effectively helps relax lines and wrinkles. Revox™ Line Relaxer also contains additional ingredients for more advanced benefits such as Hyaluronic Acid, Inulin and Arnica Montana Flower Extract.

3) I am a new user of Revision Skincare® products and looking to improve my fine lines and wrinkles. Do I use Revox™ 7 or Revox™ Line Relaxer?

Both products are clinically-proven to improve fine lines and wrinkles. However, Revox™ 7 can be recommended to those who are interested in preventative care or have mild to moderate fine lines and wrinkles and may not be using neuromodulators. Revox™ Line Relaxer truly benefits all using neuromodulators who also have moderate to severe expression lines and under-eye lines. Revox™ Line Relaxer is a more robust formula that provides advanced results and is clinically-proven to not only improve the quality and overall appearance of the skin but also to enhance the overall results of neuromodulator injections.

4) Is Revox™ Line Relaxer for targeted application only?

This product is meant to be used to target facial expression lines. It is in a 0.68 fl oz airless pump that features a Zamac® stainless steel tip that provides a precise targeted application as well as a unique cooling and soothing sensation.
